Information For Voters

(By John D. Hunt, Clerk of the Executive Council.)

1. What is meant by a plebiscite?
A plebiscite is a direct vote of all the electors to decide a question of public importance.

2. In what respects does a plebiscite differ from an election for a member of the legislature?
A plebiscite does not call for any nominations, or candidates, nor for any notice other than the proclamation. In a plebiscite the ballots are uniform for the province, and while for convenience the vote is taken by electoral divisions, the result is decided by the total vote over the whole province, obtained by combining the totals from each electoral division.

A returning officer is not required to give a casting vote, in case of a tie, nor has he authority in a plebiscite to declare any question carried on the vote in his electoral division. The clerk of the executive council combines the totals from the different electoral divisions and declares the result.

3. What is the issue in the coming plebiscite?
The electors are asked to decide which of four alternate legislative methods shall be adopted in dealing with the liquor traffic.

4. By what electoral method is the issue to be decided?
By the use of the single transferable preferential vote.

5. How does the vote by this plan differ from that of the ordinary election?
It differs in two respects—

(a) In the method of marking the ballot.

(b) In the method of ascertaining the result.

6. How is the ballot marked under the single transferable preferential vote method?
Each voter must mark 1 opposite his first choice of the four different questions submitted. He may stop at this if he wants to, but the method provides for him to go on and mark 2 opposite his second choice, 3 opposite his third choice and 4 opposite his fourth choice, thus showing the order of his preferences for all the questions. The reason for marking his other choices, in addition to his first choice, will appear when the method of arriving at the result of the election is considered.

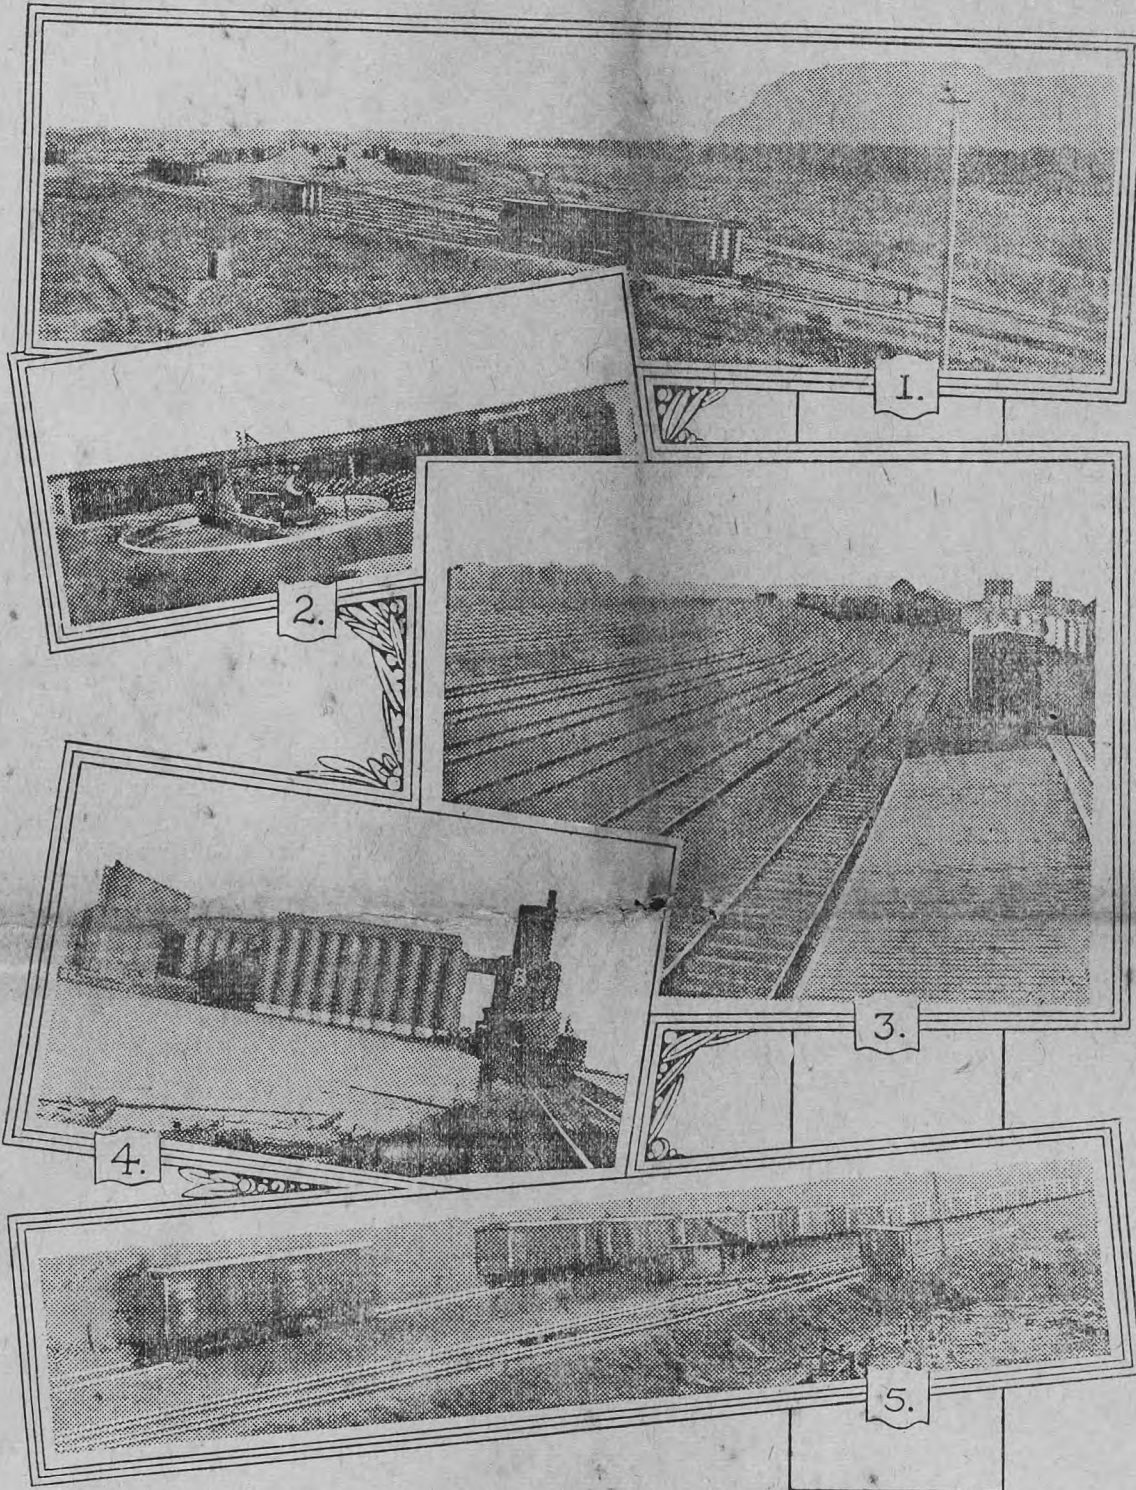

7. How is the result of the election ascertained under the single, transferable preferential vote method?
At the close of the poll on election day each deputy returning officer sorts the valid ballots and makes a statement of the number of first choice votes cast for each of the questions, without regard to whether there are or are not any other choices marked on the ballots, and sends the statement to the returning officer. Each returning officer at the proper time and place makes a statement (from the statements of the deputy returning officers) of the number of first choice votes cast for each question in the province. Under the ordinary method of ascertaining the result of the election the question having the highest number of first choices would be declared carried, irrespective of whether it had a majority of all the votes cast or not. Under the single transferable preferential vote method the question having the highest number of first choices is not declared carried unless it has more than one half of the total number of first choices cast.

8. How is the result determined when no question has more than one-half of the total first choice votes cast?
The clerk of the executive council proceeds as follows:

He opens the envelope containing the ballots, checks the statements of the deputy returning officers and returning officers, and places all the ballots with first choice votes for each

CANADIAN NATIONAL OPENS ONE OF WORLD'S LARGEST RAILWAY YARDS FOR GRAIN

Some idea of the extent of the Neebing Terminal opened at Fort William this fall by the Canadian National Railways is given by the above pictures, showing part of the 43 miles trackage with capacity for 2,000 cars. This new terminal is doing much to minimize the possibility of grain car congestion on Canadian National lines at the head of the lakes; expedite delivery of grain to elevators for shipment down the lakes and also the movement of other "loads" and "empties" both east and west and thus further improve the transportation service provided. Views shown are as follows:

- 1.—Classification yard looking eastward from the "hump."
- 2.—Twenty-four stall round-house with electrically operated turntable in the foreground.
- 3.—View from center of the classification yard, showing car coming from "hump."
- 4.—Eight and one-half million bushel elevator at Port Arthur, owned by Canadian National Railways, the picture showing grain going into elevator from cars at one end and being loaded on boat at the other.
- 5.—The "hump," where the force of gravity is the only power used in placing cars in the classification tracks assigned to them. Two cars have just been released and are shown on their way to classification yard.

The Case Against Prohibition

(By Dr. Stephen Leacock)
Professor of Economics McGill Univ.

Among the most treasured possessions of the British people is the heritage of free speech. I ask it now. I may well do so, for there is but little of it left in regard to this matter of prohibition in the province of Ontario. A fanatical minority has captured the ear of the public and the power of the Legislature. They have contrived to throw around them a false mantle of religion and morality. And for the time being the only response is silence.

Things have come to a point where the expression of opinion is no longer free and unrestrained. People will not speak out frankly what they think. This man trembles for his business, that man for his profession. All, or nearly all, keep silent. The prohibitionist has contrived to masquerade before the country as if he were of necessity a good man, a moral man, and his opponent of necessity a bad one.

The truth is that a very large part of the most honest and honorable opinion of the country is opposed to prohibition; and a very large part of the worst opinion, and the meanest elements in the community are strongly in favor of it.

I happen to be one of those who are honestly and sincerely opposed to prohibition as a matter of principle. I think the movement is the worst national development, the most un-British agitation that has come to us in half a century. It is my candid belief that the adoption of prohibition in the United States is the worst disaster that has fallen upon the American republic since its origination. If it could last, it would undermine the foundations of Government itself. If it could last, it would in time bring down the strongest political fabric into anarchy and dissolution.

But prohibition cannot last, neither here nor there nor anywhere because it is based upon a lie, and a lie cannot endure. Prohibition declares it to be a crime to drink beer. And it is not a crime. The commonsense of every honest man tells him that it is not a crime to drink a glass of beer. All the legislatures that ever sat cannot make it so. You can make your statutes as cruel and as sharp as question in a separate pile, without reference to any other choices on the ballots. If none of the piles contain more than one-half of all the first choice votes, that is, of all the ballots cast, he declares the question having the lowest number of first choices defeated. Where there is a tie vote he decides which one shall be excluded first. Each ballot in that pile is inspected and put in one of the three remaining piles indicating by the voters second choice on it. If there is no second choice on some of the ballots, they are put aside and not counted, and the voters who marked 1 only for the defeated question lost their votes. If any of the three piles now contains more than one-half the total number of ballots in the three piles the question represented by it is declared carried. But, if none of the three piles contains more than one-half of the total number of ballots, then in the three piles, the pile containing the lowest number of ballots is declared defeated, and each ballot in that pile is declared defeated, and each ballot in that pile is inspected and put in one of the two remaining piles indicated by the next choice for the question still undefeated. If there is no next choice (2 or 3 as the case may be) on some of these ballots they are put aside and not counted and the voters who did not mark their preferences lose their votes.

The question represented by the one of the two piles now having the highest number of ballots is declared carried.

The voter has but one vote. It is only in the event of his first choice being declared defeated and the ballots in the pile distributed to the other piles that his second choice is counted, and only in the event of his first and second choices being declared defeated that his third choice is counted, and so on.

9. In what case are second choices never counted?

The second choice on original ballots cast for the winning question are not taken into consideration as the first choices are counted, and the second choices on the original ballots cast for the question that is beaten in the final count are not taken into consideration as the first choices are counted. Suppose for example that question (a) prohibition, wins in the final count, the second choices on the ballots that had (a) for first choice would not be looked at. Or suppose that question (a) prohibition loses on the final count, the second choices on the ballots that had (a) for first choice would not be looked at.

Unless a question is declared and the ballots in the pile distributed to the other piles, second choices are not counted; in other words, the second choice is not counted unless the first choice is out of the contest.

10. Give an example of the working out of the transferable vote, with say a total of twenty first choices.

Suppose the piles of first choices to be (a) 8, (b) 2, (c) 4, and (d) 6. No question is carried on the first choice, as it would require at least 11 to give a majority of the total. Declare (b) defeated. Examine (b's) ballots. Suppose has second choice for (a) and one second choice for (d). Result three piles: (a) 8 plus 1 equals 9; (c) 4, (d) 6 plus 1 equals 7. No question is carried. Declare (c) defeated. Examine (c's) four ballots. Suppose all have second choices for (d). Result: (a) 9, (d) 7 plus 4 equals 11 and (d) is carried by the votes transferred from (b) and (c). If the voters for (c) had voted first choices only (a) would have won over (d) by a vote of 9 to 7 with 4 ballots set aside and not counted.

11. Must the voter mark more than his first choice? No, he is not compelled to mark more than his first choice.

12. May the voter mark an X instead of 1?

No. If he does, his ballot is spoiled and not counted.

13. May the voter mark his ballot in Roman numerals?

No. If he does, his ballot is spoiled and not counted.

14. Who are entitled to have their names on the voters' list?

All persons, male or female, of the full age of twenty-one years, who are British subjects by birth or naturalization, who are not Indians, and who have resided in Alberta for at least one year, and in the electoral division in which they seek to vote at least three months immediately preceding the date of the issue of the writ of election, and who reside in the polling sub-division at the time the list is finally approved and who are not disqualified under the election act.

What persons are disqualified under the election act?

Judges, Indians, patients in lunatic asylums, persons in jail, and persons disqualified by the courts for corrupt election practices.

16. Is every person whose name is on the list entitled to vote?

Yes, if his right is not challenged. If he is required to take the voter's oath he has to swear to the qualifications that entitled him to be put on the list and that he is at the time of voting a resident of the polling subdivision on the list of which his name appears.

17. Is a person who is qualified, but whose name is not on the list, entitled to vote?

Yes, he can apply to the deputy returning officer on election day, take the voter's oath and have his name put on the list and may vote; but if any objection is made his ballot is put in a disputed envelope and not counted unless his right to vote is established at the court of enquiry.

18. Should the ballot of a voter whose name is on the list but whose right to vote is challenged and who takes the oath, be put in a disputed envelope?

No, if a person's name is on the voter's list, and on being challenged he takes the oath, the ballot must be put in the box the same as that of any other qualified voter. If the voter takes a false oath he is liable to prosecution for perjury.

19. Can a person whose name is on the list for a poll and who changes his residence before election day, go back to that poll and vote?

Yes, if his vote is not challenged, but if required to take the oath he could not truthfully swear he was still a resident of that poll. If he moved into another poll in the same electoral division he could take the voter's oath in that poll, have his name put on the list, and vote. If he moved into another electoral division he would not have the three months residence and would lose his vote entirely.

20. Is a person otherwise qualified, whose name could not be put on the list owing to his not being naturalized or not being twenty-one years of age, but who is naturalized or who attains the age of twenty-one years before election day, entitled to vote?

Yes, he can take the voter's oath on election day and have his name added to the list.

21. What provision is there for scrutineers to act on behalf of the different questions on election day?

As there are no candidates, there can be no scrutineers by them, but two voters may, on request, be allowed to represent each question and shall be permitted to remain in the polling place during the time the poll is open and at the counting of the votes.

22. What ballot papers will be rejected?

The deputy returning officer should reject any ballot papers.

(a) Which have not been supplied by him; or

(b) on which a cross or X is marked; or

(c) on which 1 is not marked; or

(d) on which the figure 1 is placed opposite more than one question; or,

(e) on which the figure 1 and some other figure is placed opposite the same question; or

(f) On which there is any writing or mark by which the voter can be identified; but no word, letter or mark written or made or omitted to be written or made by the deputy returning officer on the ballot paper shall void the same or warrant its rejection.

23. What are the hours for voting?

In city and in polls in city constituencies marked "suburban" on the proclamation the polls shall be kept open from 9 a. m. until 8 p. m. All other polls shall be kept open from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m.

24. Where are advance polls to be held? What hours are they open, and who is entitled to vote at one?

Provision is made for an advance poll to be opened from two to five and from seven to ten p. m. on the Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the week preceding that of the election in the cities of Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Red Deer and Wetaskiwin, the towns of Hanna, Wainwright, Macleod, Edson, Vermilion, Coronation and Camrose, the villages of Mirror and Empress and the divisional railway point of Jasper. One advance poll only will be open in each place, but an election of any part of the constituency, upon obtaining an enumerator's certificate from his home poll, and making the described declaration that he believes he will be necessarily absent from his place of residence on election day, may vote at such poll.

Card Of Thanks

To Editor

Chauvin Chronicle

Dear Sir,

I trust you will provide me with a little space in your paper to thank the artists who gave their services at the benefit concert on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. George Tizzard given at Ribstone on Saturday 13th of Oct. The Artists were Miss J. Price and Miss H. Price Mr. Billy Clifford, Miss F. Johnston and Messrs D. Tennant and R. Tennant. I am also greatly indebted to Mr. Jack Phippen for the assistance we received from Mr. J. Russell also assisted nobly. Mr. Teddy Smith's help was invaluable in the dressing room while Mr. L. L. Pound has been like a father to us since ever we arrived at Ribstone. The women of the Institute looked after the finances as only women can, and I am obliged to them for their assistance in providing us with the clothes for our "get ups." Good Old Ribstone, I am proud of you for the manner in which you rallied to the help of your unfortunate friends.

Yours faithfully,

THOMAS W. CAMPBELL

Scottish Harvesters

Concert At Ribstone

Tremendous Success

Ribstone was in jovial spirits on Saturday night. From six o'clock motors, buggies, drawcars and teams wagons unladen their cargoes of human freight. The streets were crowded with laughing humanity, the stores reaped a harvest of dollar bills while the chink and the boarding establishments had their quota of visitors.

What was the reason for such a crowd? Don't be too inquisitive and you'll soon learn. At 8.30 p.m. the crowd flocked up to the curling rink, and amazement was written in every face when they beheld the dinky little stage with its back curtains and its swinging front curtains.

The body of the hall being in total darkness, gave the stage a scene of dazzling beauty. A round of applause greeted Mr. T. W. Campbell of Glasgow, Scotland, when he introduced the Scottish Harvesters.

These entertainers, most of whom were making their first appearance in public, performed some lively interludes, chief of which was a beauty competition and a sketch entitled "The Lunatic Asylum."

The musical part of the program was carried out very successfully by the Misses Price whose contributions were thoroughly enjoyed. Miss F. Johnston favored the audience with two recitations which were well received. The brothers Tennant performed with their feet and were much appreciated. Mr. Billy Clifford played some lively tunes with the violin. Mr. T. H. Campbell created much amusement by his impersonation of Harry Lauder. His step dancing brought roars of applause to which he answered by an encore. Mr. Campbell announced that the total amount drawn was $122.20, and expenses were $8.00. In his speech he thanked the people who turned out to show their sympathy for the bereaved people in whose behalf he had organized the concert. He also thanked the people for the treatment that had been extended to the Scottish harvesters during their sojourn amongst them. In all his travels throughout the world said Mr. Campbell "I have never had a better time than I have had here in Canada, and, if I, with my fellow harvesters return to the East, we shall never forget the happy times on the prairies, nor shall we ever forget the wonderful prairie people."

The harvesters who took part were: Mr. George Swan (In beauty competition) Miss Ton from Edgerton.

M. Robert Atkinson—Miss Peg from Winnipeg.
Mr. Donald Martin—Miss Rib from Ribstone.
Mr. James Dixie—Miss Jaw from Moose Jaw
Mr. George Lumsden—Miss Pros from Prospect Valley
Mr. T. U. Campbell—the Judge.

Four girls, Dorothy Jardine, Irene Rockey, Alberta Jenkinson and Elizabeth Lessel acted as pall bearers at the funeral of Annie Tizzard who was accidentally burned last week.

On October 27th a bazaar will be held by the L.D.S. Ladies Auxiliary in the Ribstone Municipal Hall. A Fowl Supper of hot potatoes, turkeys, chickens etc will also be served. There will be a fish pond for both young and old. Everybody is welcome.

Presentation At Greenglade

During the service on Sunday, October 14th the pupils of Greenglade school presented Jackie White of their school, with a Mechanno Box. Jackie had recently met with an accident by falling from a buggy and breaking his leg. Mr. Mitchelson referred to their unselfishness and the fine spirit of comradeship in remembering their injured school mate and letting him know they were thinking of him.

Miss Keates, the teacher, made the presentation to his sister as he was unable to be present.

Many thanks are due to Miss Keates, the pupils and the ladies of the congregation for decorating the schoolhouse so beautifully for the Harvest Thanksgiving services.

What Two Dollars Will Buy

In each of its many departments, catering to all classes and all ages, the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, has continued to improve each year over the last until now it would seem perfection were reached. Yet for the coming season that re-again promises—and the promise will surely be fulfilled—still further improvements in all departments. It is a profound mystery to publishers the world over how the Family Herald and weekly Star can continue to publish a 72-page weekly paper containing such a wealth and variety of reading matter for a subscription price of only $2.00 per year.

If this were not enough, we hear that, added to the amazing value of the paper itself, each subscriber this season who remits in time will receive free a most beautiful picture in colors of a lovely and heroic woman, whose remarkable life story has been published in booklet form and can be obtained without charge from the Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal.

Bulbs Suitable For Fall
Planting Out Of Doors

BY A LOCAL GARDENER

Paeony: A family of perennial herbaceous plants which find a favourite place in most of the best gardens in Great Britain and are fast becoming a general favourite in Canada..

They produce numerous large and beautiful flowers in a great variety of shades and colors from deep crimson to delicate pink and pure white; the foliage is also very attractive.

They grow from two to four feet having a bushy habit of growth and consequently require considerable space. The cultivation is simple and they will grow in any ordinary garden soil, but for the best results they require a deep rich loam, deeply dug with a liberal supply of well rotted manure added. Roots should be obtained in the fall and planted in clumps of from three to six roots, set three feet apart each way, not later than October. In planting keep the crown of root not less than four inches below the finished surface. When the ground beging to freeze protect the newly planted roots with a covering of short manure six inches deep, which should not be removed until the frost is well out of the ground in the spring.

Lily of the Valley: Its beauty and fragrance are so well known that a lengthy description is unnecessary.. To those who are not familiar with it, I would suggest they give it a trial this winter. It can be grown for early spring flowering indoors or in the open, coming into bloom as soon as the snow is gone.

The supply of crowns and pips is obtained from Europe and do not arrive before December but they make very rapid growth after planting and may be had in bloom in January and February with a little forcing.

To grow indoors procure good crowns they are of very easy culture. Pand prefer a rich sandy loam for soil. Plant, say five or six crowns in a five or six inch pot or box. For a successful flowering it is necessary that the crowns be exposed to a temperature a few degrees below freezing for a period of from two to three weeks after planting. This can be done by removing to a shed out of dors, if the frost is not too sever, and covering with hay or straw.. When the pots or boxes are brought in the house draw the frost out gradually by watering sparingly with tepid water..

When the plants are growing or in bloom always use water about the same temperature as the room. To grow out of doors, select a cool shady corner (or an open space in a bluff) where the plants will not be disturbed for a few years, when the roots will have become matted and require to be broken up.

In planting keep crowns at least two inches below the surface.

Any good garden soil, preferably a sandy loam is suitable.. In the fall, mulch with manure.

Arum: A large family of tuberous roted plants, found in many widely different parts of the world. The Cuckoo Pint of the English hedge-rows is one of them.

There are only a few varieties in cultivation. The white Calla or Lily of the Nile is the most popular and best suited for growing indoors. The flowers are large pure white with yellow spathe in the centre; it blooms freely and will live as long as it is well cared for.

The tubers should be planted from Septeber to November in a rich sandy loam. One in a five or six inch pot with good drainage. Water sparingly until the first leaf makes its appearance above the soil when water of the same temperature as the room should be supplied liberally; remove the dust from the leaves frequently with a wet soft sponge.

The plants should bloom in early spring or summer, and can be kept growing all the year round. But to ensure better blooming it is better after they have done blooming to diminish the supply of water and allow the leaves to wither and die down, then shake out the roots and repot in fresh soil.

Abundance of water, fresh air, and frequent sponging of the leaves will produce one of the most attractive house plants.

Here and There

A grant of $25,700 to the Salvation Army to aid Canadian emigration work in Great Britain has been authorized by a Canadian Order in Council.

According to information received by the Canadian Pacific Railway at Winnipeg, sixty-three bushels of wheat to the acre has been harvested on the farm of T. M. Ballantyne, three miles north of Lacombe, Alberta. The wheat graded No. 1 and weighed 64 pounds to the bushel.

Weighing 3,170 pounds, a steer, said to be the largest ever received in Winnipeg, arrived at the union stockyards from Wainwright, Alberta. It was sold for $250, the highest selling price of any steer in Winnipeg since the war.

The Canadian Pacific S.S. "Brunton," which arrived in Liverpool on September 5th, put up what is considered to be a record in the speedy discharge of cargo when she sailed the following day, Sept. 6th, at 7 p.m., having discharged over 2,000 tons of cargo.

It is announced that the Canadian Pacific Railway will increase the size of its irrigation headgates at Kimball, in southern Alberta, by 50 per cent in anticipation of an increase in area of 40,000 acres in the Lethbridge district. Water will be turned into the ditches of the Lethbridge Northern project, it is expected, some time this fall.

Buffalo steak will be abundant in Canada this fall. A herd of 2,000 surplus Buffalo wandering on the range in the National Park at Wainwright will be slaughtered by an Order-in-Council, and the meat and skins sold. For several years the Government has paid special attention to the preservation of the buffalo and the work has been so successful that the National Parks are now overstocked.

At a dinner given in his honor by the Vancouver Board of Trade, E.
W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, announced that the Company proposed immediately to add two large modern steamers to its coast fleet in order to take care of its increasing tourist traffic over the Company's Pacific Coastal lines. He also announced the early completion of a new pier at Vancouver at a cost of several millions.

There have been large increases in the number of pure bred animals in Canada during the decade between the last two censuses. The increase in the number of pure bred horses between 1911 and 1921 was 44 per cent; of cattle, 139 per cent; of sheep, 75 per cent, and of swine, nearly 44 per cent. The number of pure bred horses in the Dominion in 1921 was 47,782; cattle, 296,656; sheep, 93,643, and of swine, 81,143.

A conservative estimate of the amount of money spent in Quebec by tourists reaches $2,358,750. From the beginning of May until the first of September, 15,000 motor tourists had called for information at the offices of the Quebec Auto Club.
Taking an average of four people to each car, this meant that at least 60,000 people had come to the city by automobiles. Of this number there were approximately 3,000 camping parties, or 12,000 people.

At the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, recently, Colonel J. S. Dennis, Chief Commissioner of Colonization of the Canadian Pacific Railway, outlined in a detailed speech existing conditions in Canada and prospects for the future. He emphatically stated that there was no cause for discouragement, but, on the contrary, every prospect of a renewal of rapid development, including an increase in our population and the development of our latent natural resources in such a way as to insure, in the comparatively near future, that we should be out of the woods, and progressing rapidly to a large population and favorable business and financial conditions.

you like. You may multiply your spies and informers, you may throw wide the doors of your penitentiaries, and you still cannot make it a crime; and the sharper and the harder your law the more public sense and public feeling will revolt against it.

Let those who have organized the legislative tyranny of prohibition look well to what is bound to follow. They are putting their trust in coercion, in the jail, in the whip and the scourge. They are done with the moral appeal. They are finished with persuasion. They want, however, authority. They want to say, "Thou shalt not" and "Thou Shalt not," and when they say it, to be obeyed under the fear of the criminal law. And the time must come when they and their law must go down together. I tell you that if there is a moral issue involved in this present contest it is the moral issue of the spirit of human freedom struggling against bondage. The age-long spirit of liberty that the chain can never bind, that the gag can never silence, and that, even the fins of Smithfield could but illuminate to a brighter radiance.

I lay stress on this aspect of liberty—shall I say of British liberty—because that is what is at stake. The prohibitionist tries here to mislead you. He wants to fool you into thinking that it is an administrative question, or a medical question, or a political question of the right of the majority to rule. It is none of these things. The prohibitionist, I say, would try to deceive you into thinking that the question at issue is a medical question, that it turns upon the goodness or badness of beer from a purely digestive standpoint. It is not so. Beer may be good or may be bad. My own candid opinion, reached after fifty-one years of reflection, is that there is nothing like it. But even if I knew it were as bad as is the excessive use of tea or coffee I still would strongly oppose a criminal law to prohibit its consumption.

But the plain truth is that beer is just an ordinary beverage. You cannot make it a criminal if you try. The attempt is silly. Common sense revolts at it. Some people like beer and some don't. Some people find that it agrees with them and others do not. It belongs in the same class with cucumbers. And the attempt to make the consumption of beer criminal is as silly and as futile as if you passed a law to send a man to jail for eating cucumber salad.

You can never shackle upon England the chain of prohibition because it is a chain that will not fit, a shackle that will be snapped asunder the moment that you try to rivet it.

The more the pity that we are so soon unmindful of our heritage. We are wandering into untried paths, despairing of being good by virtue of the individual spirit, we are to be made good by statute. Our life, our food, our clothes, our amusements are to be made the subject of stringent and coercive legislation. And for those who will not obey there awaits the jail.

Therising generation of today see all about them a form of criminal law called prohibition. They see it everywhere broken. They see it broken by many of the most respected people of the community. They know that it can only be maintained at all by the most brutal, most stringent and most repulsive of methods. They see employed in its service the vilest of human creatures, the paid informer—the man that lacks even the honor that prevails among thieves—the man who carries down through the ages the part of Judas Iscariot. This they see and upon this they act. The law has become something to be despised, to be broken or evaded at will, the source of adventure or of profit, but no longer based upon the plain teaching of right and wrong.

Can you blame any youth in this province if he grows up with a confused sense as to obedience to the law. He knows that the most conspicuous and the most discussed law on your statute book is a sham and a lie. He knows that it is broken everywhere. He knows that the methods used in its enforcement are often despicable. And he knows that there are enlisted in its service some of the most contemptible characters that walk the earth—the spies and informers that are the ears and the tongue of prohibition.

That is the spectacle you are giving to your young men. What, think you, will be the result.

Red Cross Campaign

The Red Cross Campaign for funds starts off this week with an appeal to all farmers who are grain growers for a donation for grain. This will be counted as membership subscription to the Society and of the monies raised 82 per cent will be spent in our own Province and 18 per cent given for Japanese Relief.

In Alberta there is no service given by the Red Cross which makes a more direct appeal than the Rural Hospital and nursing Service... It is of incalculable value to the settlers in outlying districts.

In those parts of the Province where the Government has not been able to establish Nursing Service the Red Cross has operated seven Rural Hospitals, or Nursing Outposts, and has maintained District Nurses in some communities far removed from Hospital Service.

One Hospital in the Far North is situated one hundred miles from steel. Without the Red Cross there would be no provision for the sick and much suffering and hardship would be endured by the settlers. Some features of this work are as follows:

Seven Red Cross hospitals have been established and operated.

One hundred and seventy eight babies have been born in Red Cross Institutions.

Fifteen thousand, nine hundred and thirteen Hospital days have been listed. First Aid Classes have been held, and Health Lectures have been given. Pre-natal, Child Welfare and other visits have been made to homes in the hospital districts.

To continue and develop this work is the future policy of the Red Cross. On these worthy grounds the Society appeals to everyone to support the forthcoming Annual Campaign and membership Drive, to raise funds for the Red Cross Service.

Mr: "You are always changing your mind."

Mrs: "The only persons who can change their minds are those who have them to change."

Irate Father: "What! You've got the nerve to ask for my daughter?"

Cool Suitor: "Yes, and that isn't all. I've got the nerve to take her!"

MODERATIONISTS, ATTENTION REFERENDUM OF NOV. 5

ARE YOU REGISTERED?

REMEMBER!

NO REGISTRATION, NO VOTE

Enumerators will be at work shortly Their basis for their work is the list used in the Provincial Election of 1921

If you voted then and have not changed your residence, you should be on the list for the Referendum. If you have changed your residence since 1921, the enumerator should find you and enter your name on the list. But in either case it is up to you to see that your name is actually on the list by getting into touch with the enumerators before October 27.

On Saturday October 27, two copies of the list must be posted in two of the most public places within the polling sub-division. In the country one of these must be the Post Office nearest the Poll. Examine the list for yourself

Friday, Nov. 2 from ten to four the Enumerator must be present at the place mentioned on the lists to add or strike off names. This is your last chance to get on the list without uncertainty or trouble of being sworn in at the Polls on Polling day.

Don't prejudice a great victory by your own carelessness. Make sure of your chance to Vote "D" and make it Fifty Thousand Majority

STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX

Studebaker's vast resources are utilized to manufacture (not assemble) the Light-Six complete in the newest and most modern large automobile plants in the world.

Resources, consisting of $90,000,000 of actual net assets, together with $45,000,00 of plants, make it possible for Studebaker to offer you a six-cylinder car, at less than $1500, that is emphatically superior in design, construction and performance to any car within hundreds of dollars of its price.

By complete manufacture, Studebaker not only guards the quality of each part, but saves the middle-man's profits, with the result that no other make of car ever built, by anyone, at any price, represents so great a dollar-for dollar value as the Light-Six.

Evidence of its mechanical superiority is found in its practical freedom from vibration. This is accomplished by the perfect engine balance secured through machining the Light-Six crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces. This requires 61 precision operations. No other car in Canada selling for less than $3,500 follows this practise.

It is significant, therefore, that the sale of $1,880 Studebaker cars during the first six months of this year broke all records. Buyers are justified in expecting more for their money in a Studebaker than in any other car.

Sudden Death At Ribstone

(Contributed)

The sympathy of their friends and neighbours of is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Young, of Ribstone in their bereavement by the sudden death of their youngest son James Garven, aged 15 months which took place Saturday, October 15th. Mr Dell kindly brought the minister. Mr. Mitchelson from Greenglade on Sunday, arriving there while the Harvest Thanksgiving service was being conducted., which with the consent of the congregation was shortened to allow Mr Mitchelson to leave to conduct the funeral which was due to leave Mr Young's home at 1 o'clock enroute for LaPearl church. where the service was conducted. A large congregated assembled, many being unable ti gain an entrance to the church which was filled to capacity.

The minister preached a very impressive sermon to an attentive congregation from 1st Thess. 444: 14. "For if we believe that Jesus died and rost again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with Him". The preacher said in effect: Gid has been knocking very loudly at our hearts' doors these past days. Reminding us that there is an eternity to gain, and a world to lose. No noble work can be done in this world without sacrifice. To lighten the burden of others we must bear the load that cost suffering. Our blessed Saviour to gain our salvation rose victorious through death.

This dear child whom God has taken to himself has accomplished its mission, it has done its wirk and by suffering entered through the gates of death to a fuller life of service with God.

The pall bearers were Robert Tennant, Roy Tennant, Gordon McCagherty and Dtlbert Young.

Tributes of friends were sent by friends of the village..

Beside the parents one brother and three sisters are left to mourn the loss of son and brother.

Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas and family were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott, Artland.

The Young Peoples' Society of Artland have changed the date of their mettings from Saturday to Wednesday evenings; and will meet in the schoolroom every alternate Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock sharp.

The Sunday evening Song Service at Artland which were so well attended last winter are again being 7.30 every Sunday evening.

Mr and Mrs Forran who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. Kitchen are leaving for Vancouver in a few days, where they will make their home.

Quite a few hunters have been around the past week, and bags have been fair. Amongst them were Dr. Smith lately of Edgerton, now of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald of Turtelford were visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gordon.

Artland Sewing Club

The usual fortnightly meeting of the above was held at the home of Mrs. T. S. Smith on Mednesday evening. Arrangements were made to hold a Home Cooking sale in Mr. McRae's office on Saturday Afternoon October 27th when it is hoped there will be plenty of purchasers for the catables in sale. Prices will be within the reach of all. Preliminary arrangements were made for a Scotch concert and dance to be held in Artland school on the evening of St. Andrews Day, November 30th. Fuller arrangements regarding this event will appear in these columns later on. The ladies of the club meantime are busy making a quilt which will be most handsome when finished. It will be disposed of after the concert on St. Andrew's Day.

A full line of pencils, ink, pens, slates, rulers, erasers, readers, text books and all other school supplies Big values in writing pads and envelopes procured at quantity prices. The Chauvin Pharmacy.
